CINCINNATI IS ALARMED.

News That Cholera Has Broken Out in New York Frightens Ohio's Metropolis.

Inflexible Quarantine Will Be Maintained by the Buckeye State For Some Time.

Passengers Escaping From Fire Island—Hearst's Generous Offer Accepted.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 15.—Health Officer Prendergast, when informed that cholera had broken out in New York, said: "I will declare the city of Cincinnati under quarantine. It will be as strict as martial law during the war. We are threatened with an enemy whose ravages are terrible to contemplate, and no effort or expense will be spared to prevent its introduction in this country. Every port in this state will be quarantined and guarded." The announcement that cholera had appeared in New York city caused a panic in speculative circles, and the stock market, which opened strong and advanced throughout the morning, some shares gaining three and a half points, immediately broke. Thousands of shares of stock were thrown on the market, and the earlier gains completely wiped out. Two more carloads of cotton, supposed to be infected, from near Hamburg, are being hustled about from one village station to another by the Pennsylvania railway, in an effort to keep them from being burned by indignant citizens as were the other cars on Saturday. They are consigned to Josephy Bros., whose factories were burned the same night.

FIRE ISLAND, Sept. 15.—An inspection this morning of the Normannia's passengers, quartered on Fire Island, shows that all are well. The perfect weather, coupled with the understanding that they will be released to-morrow, put the captives in good spirits.

BABYLON, L. I., Sept. 15.—Babylon was excited at midnight by stories to the effect that the cabin passengers of the Normannia had escaped from Fire Island. Conductor Isaac Freeze, of the Long Island railway, came to the Watson House to-night and said he had had a passenger from Babylon for New York, who had given him two German gold pieces and a German silver piece for fare from Babylon to New York. The passenger was accompanied by several women, and the party were nervous. A boatman, who came to the Babylon dock shortly after midnight, said to other boatmen that he had earned $130 since dinner by bringing a party from Fire Island that had come from the Cepheus.

QUARANTINE, Sept. 15.—Four new cases of cholera reported in the Scandia, and one child on the Wyoming suffering with sickness not thought to be cholera. Remainder of fleet in good condition up to 2 p. m. to-day.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Dr. Allan McLean Hamilton, of the advisory committee of physicians appointed by the Chamber of Commerce, has received a cable despatch from William Hearst of San Francisco, who is in France. Hearst's despatch placed at the disposal of the committee his steam launch. Dr. Hamilton said the offer had been gratefully accepted. "It comes very opportunely," he said, "as the committee need just such means of communication."

MONTREAL, Sept. 15.—The Mayor received the following dispatch from the Mayor of Detroit yesterday morning:

"Each head of the American States will ask President Harrison to assume authority to prohibit immigration for at least 90 days. Will you make same request to your government?

H. S. PINGREE, Mayor."

His Worship replied: "By proclamation all immigration is prohibited in the province of Quebec, as also cargoes from infected ports. The provincial government and municipal authorities unite to enforce this proclamation, which is a satisfactory one.

J. FREMONT, Mayor."

QUEBEC, Sept. 15.—The official report from quarantine of the deaths on the Lake Huron during her passage out from Liverpool to Montreal is as follows: "One child, three years old, died of meningitis; one, 18 months old, of convulsions, and three infants of diarrhœa. The remainder of the passengers are all well." The usual quarantine will be enforced.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The bulletin issued by the health department says that in the 48 hours to 10 a.m. to-day no new cases of cholera have been discovered or developed.

They Were Badly Wanted.

PARIS, Texas, Sept. 15.—A despatch from Deming, N.M., states that Deputy Marshal Williams of Paris has captured Bob Dalton, Grant Dalton, Amy Dalton, Sam Wings and "Three Fingered Jack" of the Dalton Gang of train robbers. In the fight between the marshal and his posse and the robbers, two of the latter were killed and three captured. It is supposed that the gang intended to rob the Southern Pacific while on their way to the Mexican border. Marshal Williams had two fingers of his right hand shot off. Shortly after the last raid by the Dalton gang, which occurred at Indian Territory on July 14th, Marshal Williams started in pursuit. He followed them into Kansas, thence to Colorado and New Mexico, and there captured them. The gang is wanted in a number of places for train robbery, and the rewards offered by railroads and express companies robbed in Kansas and California for the arrest of the Daltons aggregated $22,000.

Her Condition Very Serious.

LOON LAKE, Sept. 15.—Doctors Gardner, Douglas and Trudeau had a consultation at the President's cottage this forenoon on the condition of Mrs. Harrison, and at the conclusion issued the following bulletin: "The primary disease, is tuberculosis of the right side, associated with nervous prostration and a recent complication. Her condition is critical on account of tendency to reproduction of fluid. Removal to Washington at present is impossible."

Mrs. Harrison passed a restless night, but is better if anything this morning. There has been no further accumulation of watery matter in the lungs.

No Discoveries Made.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 15.—The military authorities have as yet obtained no clew which will lead to the discovery of the person who attempted to effect the release of two prisoners on Alcatraz Island by means of spurious petitions. The commandant at the island has been ordered by Gen. Ruger to investigate the matter, but no report has been filed so far. It is not likely that the report will be made public, even after it has been filed, until it has been submitted to the secretary of war.

TERMINAL CITY TOPICS.

The Magistrate Goes Whale Hunting—Trinity College Opened.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 15.—The suit of Darrell and Powis for seamens' wages in the whaler Nagasaki was dismissed yesterday afternoon with costs against the plaintiffs. The Nagasaki left this morning for the whaling grounds.

A public meeting will be held to-night to discuss the proposed $300,000 bonus to the Fraser Valley and Burrard Inlet railway company.

Other bank employees and two or three customers are said to be implicated in the shortages that have just come to light. The full investigation is not yet completed.

A desperate row occurred at Koepler's brewery, between Vane and Hastings streets, Friday last. Several men were in the brewery and quarrelled over a wager. When Geo. Johnston tried to conciliate the parties they all jumped on him. One of them named Muller, employed by the brewery, struck him three times on the back and head with a hatchet. Physicians were called, who found Johnston unable to be moved and directed that he should not be removed, but next morning Johnston awoke to find himself lying by a burning stump near the brewery. He walked to his boarding house, and last night was taken to the hospital, when the story became public. Muller has not yet been arrested.

A hundred and ten berths have been taken on the Empress of China, which sails on Monday. Among the passengers are ex-Mayor Beaugrand of Montreal and 35 clergymen and missionaries.

Will be Settled Privately.

LONDON, Sept. 15.—The divorce suit instituted by Capt. C. N. F. Armstrong, formerly known in Australia as "Kangaroo Charlie," against his wife, the well-known singer, known as Madame Miller, will be settled privately, the parties agreeing to an amicable separation, and having signed papers to that effect. If the Duke of Orleans, who was co-respondent in the case signed any checks or papers, the fact is withheld from the public. The suit of Capt. Armstrong against his wife and the Duke has been before the public for months.

Destructive Flames.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—George E. Meyer's carriage factory, 225 and 227 East 37th street, was destroyed by fire this morning. The flames extended to Chas. Fel's furniture factory, 222 and 224 East 37th street, and the furniture factory of F. Vogel & Co., 226 and 228, both of which were more or less damaged. The loss is $100,000.

Sontag the Train Robber.

FRESNO, Cal., Sept. 15.—There was no news this morning from the posse in the mountains. The case of George Sontag, under indictment for train robbery, was before Judge Holmes again this morning. The latter's decision as to whether the indictment is defective or not went over till to-morrow.

Sailors From the Magicienne and Tartar Astonish and Please the Montrealers.

Montreal Exhibition Opened—Quebec's Water Supply Threatened---Dr. Cream's Case.

The Celebrated Connolly and McGreevy Conspiracy Case Postponed Till Next Assizes.

MONTREAL, Sept. 15.—The citizens of Montreal had a fine chance of seeing the British tars at work this forenoon on the Champ de Mars; what they did was done well, and raised the enthusiasm of the vast concourse of spectators who gathered to see them show what they could do with their weapons. They moved and acted in unison, and some of their work was accomplished in a surprisingly short space of time. This was especially in dismounting and mounting their guns. They were cheered and deservedly so. Lieut. Bowels was in command of the detachment, while Lt. Garret and Mr. Hopper were in charge of the seven and nine pound guns. Lt. Mowberry and Mr. Bennett in charge of the companies. The squad consisted of 80 men from the Magicienne and sixty from the Tartar, and, headed by their fife ane drum band. The first move was the mounting and firing exercise, both of which were done with precision. The dismounting of the guns was a marvel to the spectators, as was their retreat behind the line which, to protect them, fired volleys. The cutlass exercises were grand and thoroughly appreciated. They then marched past as steady as a rock, headed by the band, and returned to their ships. The Magicienne leaves port to-morrow morning at 6 o'clock for Halifax, thence to Bermuda and the West Indies. The officers stated this morning that they had never been better treated than here, and were sorry to leave. After the exhibition the mayor entertained the officers of the ships in his office.

Getting Monotonous.

QUEBEC, Sept. 15.—Another break has occurred in the city's new aqueduct. Those accidents, which are of such frequent occurrence, are growing monotonous, and would be very serious if there was an outbreak of cholera in the city. In this instance it is expected that the city will have to do without its full and constant water supply until Friday, as repairs cannot be made sooner.

A Terrible Fall.

MONTREAL, Sept. 15.—At 2:30 p.m. a carpenter named Boulieu, working on the top of the new Board of Trade building, when the plank of the scaffold on which he was standing gave way and he fell into the basement. He dropped on a boiler and smashed his head terribly. He was removed to the hospital.

Postponed Till Next Assizes.

OTTAWA, Sept. 15.—At the assizes here to-day the case against Connolly and McGreevy was postponed until next assizes. Osler asked for this on behalf of the prosecution, because certain books of the Connollys were not produced. S. H. Blake represented the Connollys and McGreevy. Both were again admitted to bail.

Cream's Queer Case.

THREE RIVERS, Que., Sept. 15.—Inspector Jarvis of Scotland Yard called on the druggists here to-day in connection with the case of Dr. Cream, charged with having poisoned unfortunate girls in London, to ascertain if they had sold any strychnine to the doctor, and was told that they had not.

The Fair Opened.

MONTREAL, Sept. 15.—The exhibition opened to-day. The attendance was not large, on account of the unsettled state of the weather.

NANAIMO NOTES.

The Whist Tournament—Dishonest Oarsmen Abduction of a Young Girl.

NANAIMO, Sept. 15.—The whist tournament in St. Paul's Institute last evening proved a very interesting and successful affair. Seven tables were arranged and provision made for more, but for some unaccountable reason they did not turn up. The first prize was a handsome gold-headed cane, and the second a lady's dressing case. The latter was donated by Mr. M. R. Counter. The last couples to play were Mr. B. Aaronson and Mr. McGirr, against Mr. T. Keith, M.P.P., and Miss Lawson, of Victoria. The former were successful.

The postoffice inspector has not yet carried out his intentions regarding the alterations in the fitting of the Nanaimo postoffice. Very often a person may be noticed trying to extricate his mail from the little boxes which have been jammed full by the postmaster for want of more space. The small boxes are suitable to some, but further provision should be made for those who have large mails.

The other evening Mr. J. Halverson, leader of the Nanaimo Silver Cornet Band, was presented with a handsome new meerschaum pipe by the members of the band. The presentation was made at his home and a handsome acknowledgment returned.

A social was given in the new Presbyterian school last evening by the members of the church, and a pleasant time was spent. There was music, both vocal and instrumental, readings, recitations and speeches, which were followed by a pleasant repast of tea and cake, so that the affair could not fail to afford enjoyment.

Yesterday a reporter was stopped by a local oarsmen named C. Hansen and asked to publish the following story concerning the boat race last Saturday night. "I wanted to make a match with McLean for $250 aside, and he told me to meet him on Monday. I did so and he put $50 into my hand so that I could put up the stake money. McLean arranged with me to win as he said he wanted to go through Tom Wall and Beveridge, as he only got $25 out of the last race. Last Saturday night he came to me twice and told me to let him have a good start and not push him too hard. I knew I was sold as soon as I got down to the turn where there was no boat for me to go round, but I did not go round posting my friends that I was going to win as McLean expected me to do, so that neither he nor Tom Wall made much out of it." The story needs no addition to it, but will probably open the eyes of the eyes here to be wary as to who they back and who they bet against.

The pay day of the New V.C.Co. will henceforth take place once a month instead of every two weeks, which has been the custom for the last two years. The monthly pay will cause more satisfaction among the merchants, and it is believed the city will be better off in every respect through it.

At the meeting of the licensing commissioners held in the old court house yesterday, there were three applications for a transfer for license, all of which were granted. Mr. E. M. Yarwood applied for a license for McAdie's block which is claimed to contain not less than 30 rooms. An adjournment was taken for a month to admit of a full bench being present.

"Portuguese Joe" came to town yesterday for the purpose of taking legal proceedings against three Indians who he, says abducted his daughter from her home. He asserts that the Indians entered the house while the family were asleep and gagged the girl and carried her off. The father pursued them and found his daughter on the American side, so he brought her back to her home on Reed Island. An Indian named Dick, a well-known reprobate, is connected with the affair, as he was heard to threaten to carry her off.

Passenger Carriers Uneasy.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 15.—L. Lomax, general prsseuger agent of the Union Pacific, who has returned from a meeting of the transcontinental association, said to-day: "There is a great deal of unrest among the passenger associations and the situation begins to look ugly. I have no doubt that the transcontinental association is a thing of the past, and the roads remaining may form a pool against those that are out, but that's hardly possible."

May Lower Nancy's Record.

Sunol has developed wonderfully during the past year and will try and trot faster than ever before. She is splendidly built, with great powers of endurance, and has all the speed necessary to lower the record of Nancy Hanks. Next season, if no accident befall her, she will take a lower record than 2:05¼.

REPORTED INDIAN TROUBLE.

The Kootenay Reclamation Company and the Indians Are Settling Their Difficulties.

About a week ago the TIMES published an item stating that the Indians had stopped the work of reclaiming land along the Kootenay River. Last evening further particulars were received by Messrs. Keefer and Smith. It appears that the Indians in whose gardens the company's men were working, were paid $75 to allow the work to go on after it had been stopped for three days. The Indians are satisfied with this settlement, and there is not likely to be any further trouble until the men reach the other Indian gardens, which are a mile further up the river. It will be a month before the work reaches these gardens.

The company claim that the Indians have no right on the side of the river on which the company are at work, the reservation being on the other side. It is therefore very unlikely that they will pay $75 for the privilege of working on land that they have a title to. Superintendent of Indian Affairs A. W. Vowell and Mr. Fitzstubbs are up settling the trouble, and there is little doubt all will be settled before the company is ready to work the land occupied by the Indian gardens.

About a mile of land is being reclaimed monthly.

Suspected of Piratical Intentions.

The sealing schooner Aurora, Capt. Dolph, left the harbor a few nights since, and no one seems to know just where she has gone. The sealers suspect that she plans a raid on either the American or Russian rookeries, and are denouncing the thing in unmeasured terms. The schooner carried away among her crew three fellows who came here from San Francisco weeks ago, and endeavored to engage a schooner to go up to Northern Alaska and pick up some skins which they claim to have cached there. Pressed as to where they got the skins and why they were hidden they gave very vague excuses. The actions of the three were pretty closely watched. Little is known of their scheme. The sealing men generally want it understood that they do not countenance the raiding of the rookeries, and all sincerely hope that the vessel will be caught.

Everything is Ready.

The taking of stock at the Sayward mill has been completed and everything is ready for the closing of the deal for its sale to the Northey Syndicate. Some of the members of the syndicate are expected up from Tacoma this evening on the City of Kingston.

An Excursion to Sidney.

The steamer Joan has been engaged to carry an excursion to Sydney on Saturday. She will leave here at 8:30 in the morning, and Sidney, returning, at 7 in the evening. A band will furnish music on the grounds and coming home, and a programme of sports is being prepared for the day at Sidney.

A farmer in Wawanosh had a strange experience a few days ago. He was using a binder in a wheat field when in some unaccountable manner he became entangled in the binding twine and was carried up like a sheaf and dumped down on the ground with the wheat. Neither he nor the machine were injured, so he took hold of the lines again and went on with his work as though nothing had happened.

A largely attended meeting was held at St. James Square Presbyterian church, Toronto, to take leave of the pastor, Rev. S. H. Kellogg, who is to proceed to India to take part in the work of translating the Scriptures into the native tongue. Sir Oliver Mowat presided, and addresses were delivered by representative divines of all the leading Protestant churches. A purse of $1300 was handed Dr. Kellogg from the congregation and from the Christian Endeavor Society, which also undertakes to support a native assistant.

The end of the trouble between Mr. J. F. McLaughlin and the Toronto Board of Trade is not yet. Some weeks ago he sold his certificate of membership because he felt that he had not been fairly dealt with in a dispute between himself and Mr. J. L. Spink over a sale of flour. Recently the president, Mr. Baird, and the secretary, Mr. Wills, were served with legal notices by Hon. S. H. Blake, in behalf of Mr. McLaughlin, in which it was stated that his client was aggrieved at the conduct of the president and secretary and demanded satisfaction.

Olivia Wallis, a girl 15 years of age, living in West Belleville, during the absence of her father from home, ran away and was married to a young man named Taft. The license was secured after midnight from Daniel Stevens, and the parties were married at 3 p.m. by Rev. T. J. Edmison. When the irate father heard of his daughter's midnight escapade, his indignation knew no bounds. Strange to state, the commissioner neglected to take the deponent's affidavit, which renders the marriage illegal, in view of the fact that the girl was not of age, nor had she the consent of her parents to the marriage. This little omission has placed the issuer in a bad position.

He Paddles His Own Canoe.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 15.—The Great Northern, having the bull by the horns in summarily withdrawing from the Transcontinental Association, has taken another important step. It has now filed its notice of withdrawal from the Western Traffic Association. This is not unexpected, as President Hill's contempt for that organization has always been evident, and his ultimate withdrawal, at a time when he was fully able to hoe his own row, was remarked as a matter of course. Private advices state that this action has been taken, but at the general offices of the Great Northern in this city the officials refuse to confirm the report. Hill is absent from the city at present and the step was one of his own taking, as is every important measure connected with that system, but by to-morrow the truth will be announced by the chairman of the Western Traffic Association himself.

Battle of Chickamauga.

CHICKAMAUGA, Tenn., Sept. 15.—To-day is the anniversary of the battle of Chickamauga, and for this reason was chosen as the opening day of the 23rd annual reunion of the Army of the Cumberland. The battle of Antietam was fought on September 19th, four days hence, and on the 20th the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic will be inaugurated at Washington. It is a great week for the old soldiers, and many of them, besides participating in the two reunions, will visit the battle fields of Gettysburg and Antietam to witness the dedication of monuments to their dead comrades. Invitations to the reunion at this place have been sent to every one of the 100,000 survivors of the Army of the Cumberland, and as nearly as can be estimated nearly one-half of this number have responded. All the public organizations in Chattanooga have united in receiving the veterans.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 15.—A candidate for ordination, a missionary of the Presbyterian church to the Chinese at Oakland, Cal., is in trouble To-morrow the Pittsburg synod of the Reformed Presbyterian church will assemble for the purpose of ordination. David McAllister, jr., a son of a well-known pastor of that name, is one of the candidates, and it has developed to-day that there will be in all probability a decided protest against his admission, because the young man attended a picnic where there was dancing, and it is charged, indulged in a waltz himself. Young McAllister refuses to say whether he danced or not, but says he will be on hand to answer all charges made against him.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Miss Attalie Claire, the actress, and Alfred Kane, were married at 7 last evening in the Windsor hotel in the presence of 20 friends. The ceremony took place in the private parlor of Mr. and Mrs. Claire, the parents of the bride. Miss Claire, with her father and mother, returned recently from Europe on the Teutonic.

Baron Hirsch's Scheme.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—Colonel Goldsmid, who has been acting as Baron Hirsch's chief agent in the River Platte district, where some settlements of Russian Jews have been made, will not be back until February or March. He has had great difficulties to contend against, chief among which, perhaps, is the rooted jealousy and dislike of the half-castes and natives of the district to the new emigrants.

Gladstone Pledged.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—Premier Gladstone is already pledged to the Watkins channel tunnel scheme, and it is not unlikely that the railway king will take the opportunity of pushing the scheme during the Premier's short visit to Snowdon, but I understand Sir Edward Reid has every intention of bringing in his tubular railway bill at the next session and of pushing it to a second reading.

A Rival for Mrs. McKay.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—Among the passengers who arrived at Plymouth on Friday was Mrs. Newman, wife of the greatest of the Johannesberg millionaires, who means to settle in London, and will prove a formidable rival of Mrs Mackay, Mrs. McEwen and other noted foreigners. Mrs. Newman's diamonds will quite eclipse Mrs. Mackay's pearls and Mrs. Bonynge's crown jewels.

Extraordinary Attempt to Obtain Release of Two Military Prisoners.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—A few days ago Col. F. L. Guenther, commandant at Alcatraz Island, received from Washington papers calling for the release of Joseph Trumpower and Clarence Arnold, who were troopers in the Fourth Cavalry, and who assisted in the lynching of Nathan Hunt at Walla Walla in April last year, a few days after Hunt had killed Miller, a soldier of the Fourth Cavalry, in a drunken row. Forgeries of the proper forms were filled, and the correct signatures affixed. Col. Guenther did not at first suspect trickery, as there was apparently no room for suspicion, but he happened to notice that two figures in one place did not correspond with the figures in another place. He at once telegraphed Washington to inquire how such a mistake could happen. By this time he began to have doubts, but still he was quite surprised to hear from the war department that no such paper had been issued. The astounding part of the business was that the signature of Judge Advocate General Col. G. N. Lieber had been forged so had that of General. T. W. Ruger; evidently somebody quite familiar with the routine of the war department had done the work for the release of Arnold and Trumpower. How the matter is to be settled cannot yet be told. The prisoners are locked in their cells, but Col. Guenther is in a quandary as to whether he has authority to add to their punishment or whether they deserve it. Arnold is serving a sentence of eight years and Trumpower six.

SOME ENGINEERING NOTES.

The Manchester and Corinth Ship Canals—Electric Lighting.

Three cars were burned in a railway accident at Clapham, England, on August 20th, and the fire is reported to have been due to the escape of gas from a cylinder under one of the cars. A guard who was thrown from the train and imprisoned under the debris of the wreck was burned to death.

Electric lighting has been abandoned on the Midland Railway of England, we are informed, as being too expensive or unreliable, or both, for its use, and the company has adopted instead the Pintsch compressed oil gas system as its standard method of illuminating passenger coaches. They have already erected three gas plants at various points along their line, and have ordered lighting equipment for 886 cars.

The Coosa tunnel on the Columbus & Western Division of the Central railroad of Georgia, the lining of which caught fire about three months ago, is expected to be ready for trains by Sept. 1. The fire burned away the timber lining near the east end of the tunnel and the material overhead fell in. The work of tunneling through the fallen material was made exceedingly difficult by frequent rains, which caused further slides to occur. The timber lining has now been replaced with a brick arch.

The lighting of Bartholdi's statue of Liberty on Bedloe's Island, New York harbor, may be much improved if recommendations made to the lighthouse board by Maj. D. P. Heap are adopted. He proposes to place 2 100 c.p. incandescent lamps in front of each of the 25 windows which form a coronet on the statue. These will be protected from the weather in glazed lanterns with reflectors at the back. Under the balcony of the torch an arc lamp of 2000 c. p. is proposed with reflectors arranged to throw light on the face of the statue and also to throw a beam of colored light vertically upward.

Work on the Isthmus of Corinth canal is progressing favorably, and about 3600 to 4600 men are said to be employed. The cutting throughout is down to the level of the sea, and in many places trenches have been made as deep as the grade line of the bottom of the canal. These show a sandy and loose shingle, so that it has been considered advisable to build a wall on each side of the cutting to 3¼ ft. above sea level. This work is now being rushed all along the canal. The idea is to excavate what is still necessary before allowing the water to enter. It is expected that the passage through will be opened in the summer of 1893. The railways of Greece are said to be working satisfactorily, and continue to pay fair dividends.

The Manchester Ship Canal is meeting with considerable financial difficulties, owing to the great increase in cost over the engineers' estimates. About 18 months ago when money was required, the city of Manchester voted $15,000,000, which amount it was claimed would be sufficient. But now a further amount of $7,000,000 is needed. The original estimate was $45,000,000. The authorized capital amounts to about $67,000,000, to which must be added the additional $7,500,000. The Financial News, of London, says the work is likely to cost $85,000,000 before it is completed. The death of the contractor, Mr. Walker, was a serious blow; engineering difficulties have occurred, but, as the paper above referred to states, this does not explain the discrepancy between the original estimates and the actual cost. Much expensive work which is necessary at present is said to have been executed, and extravagant mismanagement is charged. The same paper says that the public will not subscribe any money and that the city of Manchester must provide the funds, being too deeply committed to allow the failure of the enterprise. In 1891 there was a financial crisis, the estimates of $45,000,000 having been exceeded, and it was thought that $20,000,000 more would be sufficient to complete the work. The city therefore voted to subscribe $15,000,000, but this amount has now been spent, the canal is not completed and there is another urgent demand for money. We have referred to this matter editorially.

GIRL STUDENTS IN PARIS.

How They Live and How They Are Treated in the Schools.

Paris Letter to the Pittsburgh Leader.]

Women have their individual life in art studies. They are, as a rule, older than the men, being from twenty-five to fifty. A few belong to wealthy families; more generally, however, they have taught art at home, and after patiently saving for years have realized their dream of study in Paris.

Often they have been regarded as prodigies in their own town or cities, and it is a bitter disappointment to find that the year or two they have set aside for finishing abroad is only sufficient to start them.

Women students find that the most convenient way of living is in an apartment, usually selected in the Latin quarter. For four rooms and a kitchen prices vary from $150 to $200 a year, according to location and size. Independent of this there is a tax of 10 per cent on closets, windows and door.

The furniture of the apartment is provided by the student and is generally of the most primitive description, soap boxes forming a large proportion of it. They are converted into bureau, window seats and bookcases. Then there are a few chairs, picked up at convenient second-hand shops. In fact, the only new article is the divan, which cost $6 and also serves as a bed. Yet the American girl usually contrives to give an air of comfort to her surroundings, and to make her one room cosy and homelike. For a single individual does not indulge in the luxury of a whole apartment, but shares it with several of her compatriots. They engage a "femme de menage," who sweeps, makes the beds, cooks, and whose wages are six cents an hour.

Breakfast is prepared by the girls themselves and requires only an alcoholic lamp as fuel. Sometimes the femme de menage is dispensed with as an unnecessary luxury—and, after all, living in Paris is easy enough, even when one assumes household duties. The gas companies rent stoves to these Bohemians at 50 cents a month. Nearly every vegetable canned or fresh, can be bought already cooked, and in as small quantities as desired; soups and meats can also be bought prepared for the table, and poultry is sent to the house steaming hot from the spit. Only Americans sojourning in Paris have any idea of the number of girl students who live there alone.

Not one art student in fifty is with her mother or chaperon. She often crosses with friends, selects a pension or a private family, where she finds the terms too high or the food too scanty, and it is not long before she meets one or more congenial spirits in the studio who are quite willing to take an apartment with her.

Girl art students in Paris are always in twos or fours. They go to their classes together and to places of entertainment, and it is very rare that they are accosted on the streets. Parisians have a vague idea of our habits and customs, and the knowledge that a girl is an American is quite enough to excuse any seeming eccentricity. To see an American girl is to know her nationality. There is an indefinite something in her air, her walk, her carriage, which stamps her unmistakably.

In the schools women have exactly the same advantages as men, but unfortunately they pay just twice the price for them.

What Stronger Proof

Is needed of the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla than the hundreds of letters continually coming in telling of marvellous cures it has effected after all other remedies had failed? Truly, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses peculiar curative power unknown to other medicines.

Hood's Pills cure Constipation by restoring the peristaltic action of the alimentary canal. They are the best family cathartic.

THE MIGHTY AGENT IS WITH US AND WAITS TO CURE!

Wanted a strengthener, a builder, a preparation that will increase vital energy! Men and women are asking for such an agent, because they urgently require it. Thousands have found it, and have conquered disease by using it.

Times have changed; our people are casting from them the deceptive and worthless pills and liquids, which failed so often, and have placed their faith in a remedy possessing mighty powers of cure. This is the agent we would place before those who have not yet tired it. Canadians in every section of the Dominion are ready to talk about Paine's Celery Compound; they talk about because it has dispelled and eradicated suffering and disease; they recommend it because of its honesty and worth.

The best and oldest physicians and druggists have words of strong commendation and approval for it daily; mothers and fathers are delighted with it; and wherever it has been introduced it has at once obtained popularity. The sleepless, rheumatic, neuralgic and dyspeptic testify in favor of Paine's Celery Compound every day. The mass of testimony now gathered from every part of Canada is truly astonishing, and far exceeds the combined efforts of all other remedies seeking favor in our land.

Suffering man! weak and frail woman! health may be yours if you but accept the infallible cure power.

The citizens of Baltimore have raised an entertainment fund of $25,000, and have pledged themselves to give the visitors a royal welcome.

YANKEE INSTIGATION.

The Toronto Mail, which keeps a pretty close watch on British Columbia affairs, has not failed to notice the responsibility of United States officials for the recent actions of the Russian cruiser-pirates. It quotes the statement made by one of the seized captains that he "was told by Captain de Levron, the Russian commander, that he would seize any vessel with a sealing outfit on board wherever he found them, and that Captain Tanner, of the U. S. Fish Commission steamer Albatross, had been over to Behring Island a few days before, and had told him to seize any schooner with a sealing outfit, wherever caught." The Mail, in commenting on this, says: "One of the points to be submitted to the Behring Sea Commission is the nature of the rights Russia has in the so-called private ocean. Russia once asserted exclusive rights, but the United States opposed them and they were not pressed. Now the United States is apparently urging Russia to re-assert exclusive jurisdiction in the Russian half of the sea in the interests of the American case. It is scarcely probable that the captain of the United States fishery steamer would ask the Russian captain to sieze sealing vessels unless he had been previously instructed to do so." No observer of the course of events in connection with Behring Sea could fail to take note of the very large amount of treachery and chicanery introduced into its treatment of the dispute by the United States Government. They are equalled only by the impudence of its assumption of the right to control the half of an ocean. This right it would not concede to Russia before the purchase of Alaska was made, but it suits the purposes of Uncle Sam to advance the absurd claim now, and further, to instigate Russia to take up the same position on the other side of the sea. The verdict of the coolest and most impartial observer must be that the Washington Government's Behring Sea tactics are much the same as those of the thimble-rigger and the three-card-monte swindler. If they were adopted only for the purposes of national advantage the case would not be so bad, but when one remembers that the chief object in view is the protection of a clique of speculators in which a member of the Administration has a large interest, there remains no ground of defence. Moreover, the impudence and brutality of the Russians have every appearance of being founded on the example of the highly civilized gentlemen of the States. At all events the barbarous inclinations of the Muscovite might well take encouragement from the treachery and disregard of law exhibited in the seizure of the Coquitlam and from the wanton cruelty shown by the detachment from the Yorktown in firing upon and wounding their own countrymen, who happened to have no connection whatever with the sealing business. In the meantime it appears that Russian and American alike are free to practise what barbarities they please on our sealers, with none to say them nay.

THE PLAGUE IN NEW YORK.

Notwithstanding all the quarantine facilities and the vigilance so unceasingly exercised at New York, the Asiatic cholera has slipped by the medical sentinels into the city. It is apparently not within human power to do more than has been done at the American metropolis to keep the dread visitor out, yet it is in the city and no one knows what mischief it may do. When it was so difficult to prevent its entrance we may fairly expect that there will be even more difficulty in checking its progress ashore. Some days ago the health authorities of the States were talking about the necessity of quarantining Canada in order to keep the disease away; but now it has entered at their own gate, and Canada must needs protect herself from an invasion by way of the States. Further, it must always be kept in mind that the plague may cross either ocean direct to our shores, and that our two quarantine stations are not as well able to ward it off as was that of New York. The Ottawa authorities, however, do not seem to pay much heed to the danger, for all they are doing to improve the quarantine. In the present circumstances it behooves the people to be well on their guard, and to remember that the best protection against the disease is cleanliness. By keeping themselves and their premises as free from dirt as possible they will do what is best to reduce the cholera's ravages to a minimum, if it should find its way across the border. This city should lose no time in waging fierce war on filth within its own confines.

THE COURTS AND THE GERRYMANDER.

The gerrymander has rather a bad time of it among our neighbors at present. In two states, Wisconsin and Michigan, the courts have declared unconstitutional redistribution bills which were intended to give one party an advantage by unfairly apportioning the seats in the legislature. The principle on which the courts acted is that the people of the state have a right to fair and equitable representation in the legislative body, and that any apportionment bill which carves out districts of varying sizes and distorted shapes is a violation of this constitutional right. Encouraged by the judgments given in Wisconsin and Michigan, New York Republicans have attacked the gerrymander in their state, and have been successful in the preliminary contests in the courts. Lastly comes Indiana, where also the Republicans allege that they have suffered from the gerrymander, both in the congressional and the legislative apportionment of seats. It seems that the congressional redistribution cannot be touched by the courts, but the Republicans have an idea that if they can do away with the gerrymander of the legislative seats the consequent change in the composition of the legislature will give them a chance to change the other apportionment. It is to be expected that the courts of New York and Indiana will follow the precedents set by those of Wisconsin and Michigan, and upset the gerrymander in each state, provided, of course, that the last redistribution was unjust, on which point there does not seem to be much doubt. In speaking of this matter the Oregonian says:—"The constitutions of the several states require that members of the legislature shall be apportioned as nearly as possible on an equal basis of population; so that, if the courts do their duty, a remedy is always at hand. Enforcement of this remedy in so many states will, it may be hoped, put a check upon the rascally partisan spirit of gerrymander, which during some years past has been more active than ever before. The political parties should be called back to the practice of honesty, and the Democratic party especially needs the admonition." We are not skilled enough in the law to be able to decide whether the Conservative gerrymander of seats in our own House of Commons can be successfully attacked in the courts, but the fact is very plain that it is quite as much in need of reversal as any that have been so attacked in the States. If we are without the remedy which our neighbors possess, then in one respect at least the boasted superiority of our constitution does not hold good. It might be worth while to make an effort to have our Supreme Court pronounce on the Dominion gerrymander.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Sir John Thompson's succession to the premiership may necessitate his resignation as one of the arbitrators for Great Britain on the Behring Sea dispute. In a recent interview he stated that the arbitration court would be likely to sit in January or February, and as Parliament may be expected to meet about the same time it will be almost impossible for him to leave Ottawa then if he in the meantime takes Premier Abbott's place.

The proprietor of an Ottawa planing mill is about to try an important electrical experiment. He is preparing for the introduction on his premises of drying kilns in which the heat will be produced by means of electricity, the kilns being the invention of another Ottawa man. A correspondent in noticing this observes that the production of heat is becoming in Ottawa one of the most essential functions of electricity. No doubt the same will in a short time be true of many other places were water power is abundant.

The Hamilton Herald, which professes to be independent, but which actively supported the Dominion Government at the last general election, puts its opinion of Sir John Thompson in these words: "It will hardly be argued that Sir John Thompson has turned out to be the fine, honorable man we all thought he was until the discovery was made that he was very strong in professions and very weak in practice. Every one admits his marked ability, but he does not hold that high place in the esteem of the public that he should hold. Still, he has proved to be less tricky than Sir Charles Tupper. Does any one imagine that the people of Canada would endorse either Thompson or Tupper at the next general election? The fact is Sir John Thompson had his chance and made ducks and drakes of it, while the public puts as much confidence in the integrity of Tupper as it does in the stability of a pattern in a kaleidoscope." The independent press has apparently very little confidence in either Thompson or Tupper.

An Ottawa dispatch says: "A very fair indication of the sensible views taken in the Dominion of the canal tolls dispute is the fact that not a single intending exhibitor at the Chicago World's Fair has notified the Commissioner, Prof. Saunders, of his desire to refrain from taking part in the exhibition on account of President Harrison's retaliatory proclamation." Inasmuch as the Canadians intending to exhibit at Chicago have in view their own benefit rather more than the benefit of the exhibition, it would be extremely foolish on their part to refrain because of the stupid canal toll quarrel. The policy of injuring themselves by keeping away from the great fair has been urged on Canadians by only a few such purblind jingoes as the Hamilton Spectator.

The Ontario Government has appointed Prof. James Loudon President of Toronto University, in succession to the late Sir Daniel Wilson. Mr. Loudon is a graduate of the University, and has for many years held a chair in it, being first Professor of Mathematics and later Professor of Physics. Prof. Loudon's fitness for the position, we believe, is generally acknowledged, and that being the case it is satisfactory to find the Government appointing a native Canadian in preference to going abroad to find a new head for the University. The graduates of the University have their own especial source of gratification in seeing one of themselves appointed to the highest position in their alma mater. From all that has been said in the discussion relating to the vacant position, there is good reason to believe that Prof. Loudon's appointment will be very well received.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

I hear that there is a great probability of a seamen's bethel and institute being started in Victoria. Some clergymen of the city have felt the great need of a suitable place combining the features of a home, church, and place of recreation for "Jack" when he steps ashore, that they are seeking to form a strong committee to carry out this project. Rev. E. Lipscombe, late Chinese missionary of this city, is the chief promoter of this movement, which would be an excellent institution for the seamen that visit our port. I trust, if attempted, it will be made strictly undenominational, so that all classes of the community could support the work. The increasing number of those that "go down to the sea in ships" calls for every effort to be made to present suitable attractions when such enter our city. Bagatelle boards or billiard table, chess and checkers, daily papers and magazines, a smoking-room, together with reasonably cheap board and rooms and a hall for religious worship would in my judgment be a very useful institution for the "toilers of the sea."

I am told there is a colored man who is bereft of his senses wandering about in the neighborhood of Ross Bay. He appears to be harmless and inoffending, yet his strange habits and unintelligible talk make him a source of terror to small children and ladies resident in that neighborhood. If Superintendent Sheppard would kindly send a couple of officers in that direction and cause the poor fellow to be thoroughly taken care of humanity and public good would alike support him in his action.
QUIZ.

THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND.

TO THE EDITOR:—Many suggestions have appeared in the papers during the past few weeks in regard to the election of a successor to the veteran Bishop of the English Church, who is so soon to leave this diocese. The names of Canon Beanlands, the Rev. P. Jenns and Rev. Mr. Good have been prominently put forward, and others have also been mentioned. In fact, a writer in a Nanaimo church paper, as quoted in the Daily News, has informed us that there are half a dozen clergymen in the province well fitted for the position, and he has further promised with much kindness but with sublime cheek to tell us next month what the personal qualifications of our future Bishop must be. But it has been left for the writer of the excellent article on "The Church of England," in Monday's TIMES (not a churchman himself, we believe), to suggest a better selection than any of the above, namely, the Venerable Archdeacon Scriven—the only man in the diocese, in the opinion of us, who is in any way fitted to succeed Bishop Hills. His well-known modesty has perhaps prevented his name being mentioned so far, but for all that it may be considered certain that when the election takes place not a few clergy and laity will cast their votes in favor of the Archdeacon. He has labored here for nearly ten years, knows the country, knows the people, is a scholar and a gentleman, and in every way worthy of promotion. The advantages to the church of a local appointment will be many and great, and we hope that the wise and opportune suggestion of "Quiz" will be acted upon by many of our synodmen when the time comes.

The Commander of the British Forces in America Here for Pleasure.

General Sir John Ross, commanding the British forces in North America, is staying at the Hotel Dallas. He arrived in town last night.

"A newspaper man," said Sir John as a card bearing the name of a member of the TIMES' staff was handed to him. "I have much pleasure in meeting you. You have a nice place here. But I have no news. I have come to Victoria purely on a private trip. Pleasure alone was my object. You would favor me by giving a denial to the statement contained in your morning paper, that I am here in connection with Esquimalt fortifications. No such a thing. I cannot understand how these things get circulated. I do not wish to mislead you. If I had anything to give, you should have it."

"Will you visit the Government officials?"

"I shall pay a visit to Lieutenant-Governor Nelson. He is a personal friend of mine. I do not intend to stay long. I shall probably return east this evening."

"Would you venture an opinion on the matters of the fortifications?"

"I have had nothing put before me officially. I shall therefore not speak."

"I presume you have heard of the talk of the superiority of Alberni as a harbor compared with that of Esquimalt?"

"I must decline to speak to you. My business is pleasure, and I intend to keep it so. Good bye, sir, I thank you for your call."

In Chambers.

(Before Mr. Justice Walkem.)

C. Strouss & Co. vs. C. Spring—Application of plaintiff for leave to sign final judgment. Application refused. Hon. C. E. Pooley for plaintiffs and Mr. Pemberton for defendant.

Cameron vs. Harper—Application on the part of the defendant, a person of unsound mind, by his next friend, for an order that the receivers appointed pay into court all monies in their possession which would be payable to Cameron or his assigns by virtue of the judgment obtained by him if the same were valid and subsisting, and for an order restraining the same receivers from paying to the said John Cameron or his assigns any monies of the said Thadeus Harper. Application to stand over, no money to be paid over meanwhile. Mr. Charles Wilson for plaintiff and Mr. Crease for defendant.

Wilson vs. Marvin—Application to sign final judgment. Order made. Mr. Geo. Jay for plaintiff and Mr. C. D. Mason for defendant.

Foley vs. Webster—Application of defendant to extend time for appeal to the Divisional Court. Ordered an extension of eight days, costs of the application to be plaintiff's in any event. Mr. McPhillips for plaintiff and Mr. Cassidy for defendant.

Nearly Ready to Begin.

The survey of the Victoria & Sidney Railway line will be completed this week. The two parties under Engineers Gray and Going have been steadily at work and are just about finished. The reports with notes and profiles will be presented very shortly after the work is completed. Under the charter actual construction must begin on Oct. 1st, and it was stated this morning that the construction company would be ready in ample time. It is the intention to push the work vigorously when it is begun. The question of terminals for the line is being freely talked of, although the members of the company are saying nothing for publication. The Heywood property at the Fountain is talked of, but is said by some to be too far out. Then the E. & N. depot is mentioned and the Market property of the city also. It is stated that the company has not decided upon anything as yet.

Dubourdieu Band Concerts.

His Worship Mayor Beaven and several prominent French residents of Victoria visited Rear Admiral Parrayon yesterday, and the Mayor intimated that a concert by the band of the Dubourdieu would give great pleasure to the citizens of Victoria. Admiral Parrayon generously offered the services of the band for three concerts, and before leaving the ship the Mayor was informed that they would play at Beacon Hill park next Saturday, beginning at 3 p.m., Tuesday, the 20th inst., at the same place and hour, and on Saturday the 24th. Those who have had the pleasure of listening to this band declare that it is equal to any musical orgauization that ever visited Victoria. The reception tendered the Mayor and the other gentlemen on board the Dubourdieu by Admiral Parrayon and his officers was most cordial and pleasant.

He Was Sworn.

The Hon. Mr. Justice Walkem heard this morning the argument on the writ of certiorari granted yesterday on the application of Charles Keating, now lodged in the Provincial jail. Mr. Gordon Hunter produced two affidavits wherein it was stated that one of the witnesses turned away "with contempt" from the Bible; that he raised his right hand (thus indicating that he wished to be sworn according to the laws of Scotland), and that the police magistrate, on counsel for the prisoner objecting to the manner in which the oath was administered, asked the witness whether he was sworn, to which the witness replied that he was. His Lordship accordingly discharged the case on the affidavits, as they showed that the witness regarded himself sworn and his oath as binding on his conscience.

Ballentyne-Allen.

Mr. David T. Ballentyne, a compositor employed at the TIMES office, and Miss Allen were married last evening at the residence of the bride's parents, 31 Princess avenue. Rev. Dr. Campbell tied the nuptial knot in the presence of a number of relatives and friends. Rev. Mr. Wilkinson, of the James Bay church, acted as best man, and the bride was supported by Miss Clara Edwards. Mr. and Mrs. Ballentyne are both well known and justly popular Victorians.

Married Last Evening.

Rev. Dr. Campbell last evening united in marriage ex-Ald. J. C. Devlin and Miss Margaret Clark. The ceremony took place in the presence of a few friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

The Russian cutters seem to be pretty good sealers themselves as far as the dooms of the Victoria sealers are concerned.

Plans on View.

The plans for the new Christ Church Cathedral are on view in T. N. Hibben & Co.'s window. They have already been fully described in these columns.

Stopped in Time.

Some careless individual this morning dumped a lot of hot ashes on a pile of rubbish in the vacant lot adjoining the city hall. The fire was noticed by Sanitary Officer Bailey, who notified the firemen.

Waiting for Their Return.

It will be some time before a successor to the late Chief Jim of the Songhees will be appointed. All the Indians are away, some fishing and others on the hop ranches. A meeting will not be called until their return.

With a Good Cargo.

The Empress of China will depart for the Orient on Sunday afternoon. She has a large freight engagement and a number of passengers are booked for the trip. She will arrive down from Vancouver at the usual hour in the evening.

For His Soul's Repose.

A requim mass for the repose of the soul of Joseph Dillon, who was drowned in the Willamette river near Portland, a few days ago, was said at St. Andrew's pro Cathedral yesterday morning. The deceased formerly lived here and has a number of relatives in Victoria.

Very Pleasantly Spent.

The pleasant At Home at the Young Ladies' Institute held in Philharmonic Hall last evening was well patronized. Four choice musical numbers were acceptably rendered, after which the floor of the hall was cleared and dancing was the order of the evening.

To His Native Land.

Mr. Henry Brooks, who has been with the firm of R. P. Rithet & Co., is going to Yorkshire, Eng., and will be away about five months. He is going east over the C. P. R. and across the ocean by the Beaver line from Quebec to avoid the cholera at New York.

Provincial Court.

The case of Jas. A. Smith, charged with cruelty to dogs, the case having been thrown out of the city police court yesterday, came up in the provincial court to-day, and the defendant was fined $5 and $3.50 costs. An Indian who had imbibed too much fire water pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and $2 costs.

To Welcome Mrs. Campbell.

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church are arranging to welcome Mrs. Campbell, wife of Rev. Dr. Campbell, upon her arrival from the east. She is expected here in about two weeks. At a meeting held yesterday afternoon the ladies decided to present Mrs. Campbell with an address of welcome.

To Form a Chess Club.

This evening at 8, in room 45, Wilson block, Yates street, the gentlemen interested in the formation of a chess club will meet and receive the report of the special committee and discuss the constitution and by-laws. It is probable that the club will be duly formed to-night. All interested in chess are invited to be present and give their views.

Not in the Mode.

A novel order was left at a millinery store a few days ago. A woman who belongs to the "half-world" presented herself there with a couple of hundred champagne bottle corks and ordered them made up into a hat. The corks represent several hundred dollars' worth of champagne, purchased by admiring friends, and the hat will make a pleasant souvenir.

Russia the Gainer.

The sealing schooner Vancouver Belle, seized by the Russians, as reported by the Kate and Ann to the Agnes McDonald, is probably the costliest schooner in the entire sealing fleet on the coast. The vessel, exclusive of the stores and fittings for work, represented an outlay on the part of the owners of $20,000. That is twice as much as many of the schooners cost. The Russians made a good haul when they seized her.

The American Cruisers.

Private advices state that the American Behring Sea cruisers have orders on the way from Washington that will keep the Bear and Adams in the sea till the 1st of December, by which time the seal rookeries will have little need of a guardian. The other cruisers will leave on the 1st prox. and will make directly for San Francisco with one exception. This is the revenue cutter Corwin, which has been ordered to Sitka before returning.

Westminster's Annual Fair.

The official programme of the citizens' celebration at New Westminster in conjunction with the Royal Agricultural and Industrial Society's annual exhibition, has been issued. The list of interesting events contained in this programme should attract visitors to the Royal City from far and near. The exhibition begins next Tuesday and continues until the following Friday. Special excursion steamers will run from Victoria at reduced fares.

SATURDAY NEXT.

CITY POLICE COURT.

View Street Offenders Punished—Chinese, Indians and Liquor.

The police court was crowded this morning. Standing room was at a premium. Last night several of the houses of ill-fame on View street were "raided" by the police. Eight women and three young men, frequenters, were arrested and lodged in jail over night. The women were:—Minnie Butler, keeper of 47View street; Kitty Russell, inmate; Ruby Dutard, keeper, 47½ View street; Lulu Taylor and Jennie Wilson, inmates; Jennie Davis, keeper, 45 View street; Carrie Hastings, inmate; Mattie Davis, keeper, 43 View street. The men who were arrested are Nelson, alias Sandy Williams, Frank Proctor and Chas. Lescoe. The women pleaded guilty. Chief of Police Sheppard said that there had been complaints about these women, and they would have to live somewhere else. They must leave that quarter.

Magistrate McCrae—Do you mean to go to Vancouver? (Loud laughter.)

Chief Sheppard—"That probably depends. Anywhere outside of here.

The court sentenced each of the keepers to an hour's imprisonment and a fine of $50, or in default two months in jail. The inmates were likewise sentenced to the same term of imprisonment and a fine of $25, or in default one month in jail. The young men were charged with being "vags." They were given a reprimand and dismissed.

The remainder of these places will also be raided. The police have entered upon the work of eradication of disreputable resorts from the neighborhood.

Wong Oy Yep, charged with supplying liquor to George, a Cowichan Indian, was remanded till to-morrow. The Indian swore that he knew the Chinaman for two years. The celestial produced an alleged certificate of entry which only dated for a few months back and there was another Chinaman on deck who testified that the accused could not have been in the country two years ago. The case is said to be one of mistaken identity. George, an Indian, who, upon his own confession, had alcohol in his possession, was fined $25, or one month's imprisonment.

William Elles and Chas. King, charged with assaulting a Chinaman, were remanded till Saturday.

A BALL TO BE GIVEN.

The Citizens Will Entertain the French Naval Officers Now In Port.

At the invitation of Mayor Beaven, the following gentlemen met in the City Hall at 11 a.m. "to decide upon what steps shall be taken to show the hospitality of the city to the admiral and officers of the French flagship Dubourdieu," viz.: The Mayor, Hon. Thos. Davie, L. Redon, Paul Watelet, H. Meaut, C. A. Lombard, W. A. Ward, A. C. Flummerfelt, Ald. Hall and Ald. Lovell, Jos. Holland, W. Dalby, E. E. Blackwood, Col. Prior, Major Nicholles, Lieut. Sargison, Lieut. Williams, C. W. Rhodes, F. Barnard, D. M. Eberts, C. E. Redfern, C. E. Renouf. After the question had been fully discussed it was moved by Mr. Prior, seconded by Mr. Rhodes, that a ball be given to Admiral Parrayon and the officers of the French flagship Dubourdieu, and that Admiral Hotham and officers of the H.M. squadron at Esquimalt be invited to attend. Carried.

The following committee was appointed with power to add to their numbers, and to make all necessary arrangements for place and date: Hon. Mr. Beaven, Hon. Mr. Davie, Mr. Prior, Major Nicholles, L. Redon, A. C. Flummerfelt, W. A. Ward, D. M. Eberts and C. E. Renouf.

The committee waited on the admiral this afternoon, and will meet to-night at the Driard to make further arrangements.

Distributing Dodgers.

There is a city by-law to prevent the distribution of dodgers on the public streets, but few people take any notice of it. It is no uncommon thing to see several boys circulating dodgers just as they would in some country town. The consequence is that the drains are stopped up and the main streets look more like a rubbish heap than anything else.

Their Pictures Taken.

The lacrosse team was photographed at the gallery of Skeene Lowe, the treasurer of the club, yesterday afternoon. It was a nice group, and the pictures will no doubt be first-class. The members are all in fine condition, each member showing up to the greatest advantage.

Flushed the Drains.

One of the fire department engines was at work to-day on Comorant street and as a result the surface drains were well flushed. The drains in all parts of the city could stand similar treatment.

Needs Attention.

The car tracks at the corner of Government and Fort streets are several inches above the level of the road. An accident is very likely to occur in consequence.

Couldn't Get Enough.

An Indian who brought 300 sealskins in from Neah Bay a few days ago, took them back to Port Townsend last evening. He refused to take $9 apiece for them.

The Chautauqua Circle.

A number of ladies and gentlemen of Victoria have joined the Chautauqua scientific and literary circle. The meeting for the purpose of organizing the circle will be held on the first Tuesday in October.

Doing Well.

The Puget Sound, Mainland and Nanaimo Knights who are going to take part in the Pythian competition drill at New Westminster will have to be "real smart" to do be better than the Victoria Knights. The latter drill every evening in the Market Hall and go through the different evolutions without a trip. On Saturday evening they will drill in public.

Was not Sold.

The Heathorn property offered for sale to-day by the sheriff did not find a purchaser. The Work Estate portion of the property was offered and there being no bid the sale was postponed until the 26th inst. The Government and Langley streets property will be offered at the same time.

Another Sealer Returning.

A sealing schooner was reported in the straits this morning, but up to the hour the TIMES went to press she had not arrived. Her name is not known. There are several of the sealers expected daily.

Decisions To-Morrow.

The licensing court will meet to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock to give the decisions in the applications for new licenses. There are four applications to decide.

THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

Sewerage and its Disposal Still the Main Question With the Councillors.

Dr. Watt Offers Some Valuable Suggestions as to the Sanitation of the City.

Every member of the council was in his chair last night when the Mayor called the meeting to order.

COMMUNICATIONS.

A letter was read from J. Pottinger calling attention to the insanitary condition of the city, referring especially to Michigan street.

Ald. Hall said that in view of the existence of cholera every possible effort to clean the city should be made. The matter went to the sanitary engineer, who will abate the nuisance.

John Boyd wrote, asking to have a foot path placed down connecting with the public hall at Oak Bay avenue. Referred to the street commissioner.

A petition was read from J. Macdonald and 43 others, asking that four hydrants be laid on Oak Bay avenue. Referred to water commissioner and fire wardens.

F. Elworthy, secretary of the Board of Trade, wrote saying that the steamship Victoria had left Yokohama on Sept. 6, and would be here on Sept. 18. This was following up the invitation to the council to buy her a piece of plate.

A reply, thanking Mr. Elworthy for the information, will be sent, and the finance committee and mayor will act in conjunction with a committee from the Board of Trade. No line of duty except to confer with the representatives of the Board of Trade and the committee has power to act as deemed advisable.

A letter was read from the Red Wing Sewer Pipe Co., of Red Wing, Minn., offering sewer pipe for sale, and claiming to have the best article on the market. Referred to the sewerage engineer and sewerage commissioners.

A letter was received from the librarian of the Leland Stanford, jr., University, asking for a copy of the city charter, and any reports on municipal matters.

Ald. Munn remarked that a copy of the last Municipal Act should be sent to the university. He wanted the pupils there to get a chance to study it and compare it with other acts. If they could do anything with it he would be willing to bow to their superior knowledge. It was voted to send a copy of the act.

Wm. McDowell complained of a pool of stagnant water near three of his houses in Victoria West. Referred to the street committee.

BAND OF THE DUBOURDIEU.

Mayor Beaven informed the council that he had called upon the Admiral on the French man-of-war now in Esquimalt, and that he had offered to send his band to play at Beacon Hill on Saturday next at 3 p.m., Tuesday next at the same hour and the following Saturday at the same hour. The offer was accepted with thanks.

Ald. Munn wanted to know if the Frenchman could not be induced to go up north and recover our sealing schooners. "Our ships," said he, "are no good."

The report of City Engineer Wilmot, giving the street line of Chambers street was received and filed. The information is accessible to anyone desiring it.

Pollock & MacNutt, merchants of Lower Stewiacre, Nova Scotia, wrote making enquiry concerning the whereabouts of a carpenter named Boutilier, who left Regina for British Columbia three months ago. He is described as a big man, 6 feet tall, dark complexioned and very reserved in his manner. He has a family at home. The letter also wants to know if the quarantine has been raised. The letter was referred to the Chief of Police and press.

REPORTS.

The finance committee's report recommending the payment of $13,374.38 on account of Board of Health, was adopted. The same committee's report favoring the payment of $840.70 for different accounts was adopted. The action of the committee in paying accounts amounting to $718.83 was confirmed.

The sanitary committee presented a report transmitting one from acting health officer, Dr. Hugh Watt, and recommending its adoption. The report was as follows:

VICTORIA, B C., Sept. 12, 1892.

To the Sanitary Committee, City of Victoria:—

GENTLEMEN:—In order if possible to prevent our city being visited by that terrible scourge, Asiatic cholera, I would respectfully make the following recommendations:—

First—That a dump be provided at once for the garbage and night soil of the city at or near Ross Bay, and far enough out to secure immersion at a depth of at least ten feet at low tide.

Second—That a proclamation be issued by the Mayor requiring the citizens generally—Chinese as well as whites and others—to thoroughly clean up their premises, removing all garbage heaps, decaying vegetables, stable manure and night soil, and disinfecting all closets and drains as often as necessary with some approved disinfectant.

Third—That a fixed time be given for carrying out this order, under penalty, and that thereafter a thorough inspection be made of the whole city by the sanitary officers; that to facilitate this inspection the city be divided into districts and an inspector appointed for each, who shall be required to go over his beat at least twice a month until otherwise ordered by the city health officer.

Fourth—That the Chinese be prohibited from dumping night soil into pits within the city for use in their gardens.

Fifth—That as soon as possible a crematory be erected for the purpose of destroying all garbage and night soil.

HUGH WATT, M.D.,
Health Officer.

The Mayor stated that acting Chief of Police Walker and young Dr. Watt had inspected Chinatown and reported to him. He had met the representatives of the six companies and they had promised to have the Chinese quarter cleaned up. They had issued a proclamation to that effect and the quarter was being cleaned up.

Ald. Bragg wanted some action taken as to the disposal of garbage and night soil. He said nothing could be done as to the crematory, and the sewerage system was incomplete, so he favored a wharf for the disposal of refuse matter.

Ald. Styles said the report of the health officer did not deal with the terrible Johnson street ravine.

Ald. Hall said no questions like that should be brought up until called to the notice of the board. He wanted the dumping wharf erected and pleaded for urgent measures.

Ald. McKillican moved and Ald. Hall seconded that the report be adopted. It was so voted.

CHINATOWN IMPROVED.

Sanitary Officer Bailey reported that the sanitary condition of Chinatown was much improved. In fact the Chinese are ahead of some of the whites. He says good work is being done. He has served 66 personal notices in the last few days. Report was received and filed. The same officer presented another report complaining about the scavengers dumping on the beach, and urged the securing of a regular dumping place. The communication was tabled until Ald. McKillican's motion came up. This motion deals with the wharf at Ross Bay.

A DIFFERENCE OF OPINION.

The report of the street committee re the dispute out on Cadboro Bay road over the overflowing of Maj. Dupont's property, was received. The work of putting the drain in will be kept up. During the discussion Ald. Humber wanted the whole board to resign.

Ald. Styles wanted more men.

A dispute followed between some of the members of the sanitary and street committees over the few men employed under the two. It was clear that the street committee did not have men enough for the work, but nothing was done to help them.

Tenders for the making of the firemen's uniforms were laid over for one week. The tenders for the police uniforms were referred to the police committee and chief of police to examine and award to the lowest bidder.

Ald. Baker's motion that a committee be appointed to investigate the sewers was laid over for a week.

The council adjourned shortly before midnight.

An Anglo-Saxon Trait.

I sat in the last car on a train yesterday afternoon with a gentleman from a foreign country. The train was nearing the station which is the daily limit of its outward journey. As it drew up at a neighboring station the brakeman called out the name of the place at the top of his voice. Then he took off the cap which is the badge of service, picked up a stiff round hat from somewhere in a corner of the car, tucked his cap well under his arm, walked down upon the platform, and went his way. The man had gone off duty and made haste to get off as much of his "railway clothes" as he could.

It was a very simple incident, and just such a one as I had seen probably hundreds of times, but the foreign gentleman watched it very eagerly and said: "Ah! there is an act into which your Anglo-Saxon ideas and institutions are compressed. It illustrates the essential difference between an American or Englishman and a Frenchman or German. That man did what was the most natural thing to him; it is instinctive with you people to honor the attire of plain citizenship above any kind of brass buttons or gold lace, and, if you have to wear brass buttons or gold lace it is a precious privilege to lay them off. On the continent of Europe, now, any man who has a chance to wear a uniform of any kind, no matter if it is a servant's livery, wears it just as much as he can. Railway employees strive to keep their service caps on there, not to get them off. An American or English military officer never wears his uniform except when he is on duty or on some very formal occasion; a German or a French officer wears his when he is putting his baby to bed. That is because you honor the simple individual above all things. You have the secret of freedom in that. You laugh when I express my admiration for that man's act in clapping his black hat on his head so quickly; but I tell you it is an admirable trait. You struggle for an office, perhaps, when it gives power and emolument, but you have a sort of shame of brass buttons, nevertheless; and no nation ever really loved freedom and brass buttons at the same time."—Boston Transcript.

A Childless Home.

Smith and his wife have every luxury that money can buy, but there is one thing lacking to their happiness. Both are fond of children, but no little voices prattle, no little feet patter in their beautiful home. "I would give ten years of my life if I could have one healthy, living child of my own," Smith often says to himself. No woman can be the mother of healthy offspring unless she is herself in good health. If she suffers from female weakness, general debility, bearing-down pains, and functional derangements, her physical condition is such that she cannot hope to have healthy children. THEIR ANNUAL MEETING.

Report and Election of Officers at the Y. M C. A. Conference.

At the annual meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association, held in the association hall last night, the treasurer reported that in consequence of the recent smallpox visitation, the subscriptions showed a deficit of $650. There was a deficit of $1200 last year. Total receipts, $3055.60; expenditure, $3702.46.

The general secretary in his report spoke of the satisfactory work accomplished. The report contained a touching allusion to the death of the Hon. John Robson, late president of the association.

The names of Dr. Lewis Hall, Arthur Lee, J. Coltart, R. P. McLennan, F. H. Worlock, Dr. Ernest Hall and J. F. Smith were added to the board of directors.

At the conclusion of the meeting the board of directors met and elected the following officers: Vice-president, T. M. Henderson, treasurer, H. G. Waterson; recording secretary, Wm. S. Hampson. The election of president was postponed. Travelling secretary of the association Duminett gave interesting information on the coming convention at Tacoma.

Two Skilful Safe Crackers.

It may be a matter of interest to the public to know just how Manager Litt, of "The Stowaway," secured "Spike" Hennessy and "Kid" McCoy to appear in the play doing their realistic safe-blowing act. Seven years ago Mr. Litt was making the trip from Milwaukee to New York, by way of Toronto. Between Toronto and New York he was approached by a very smooth talking young man, who soon succeeded in engaging Mr. Litt in conversation. Being tired and sleepy Mr. Litt soon retired to his berth, leaving his new friend engaged in conversation with the sleeping car conductor. About three in the morning Mr. Litt was awakened by some one feeling under his pillow; he quickly seized the hand of the intruder, rang his bell and held the man till the porter came and the lights were turned up, when he discovered that it was none other than his young friend of the night before. The young man at once denied all attempt at robbery, but the evidence was too strong against him and he was compelled to admit his guilt. He was carried to the next station, where he was turned over to a policeman and duly prosecuted and sentenced to the penitentiary for a year. About a year after this, when Mr. Litt had entirely forgotten the circumstance, he was approached one day in New York by a respectable looking man, who at once introduced himself as "Spike" Hennessy. He told Mr. Litt his history and that he was desirous of reforming, but was unable to obtain any kind of work. At the same time he told Mr. Litt that he had made up his mind to speak to him at the solicitation of the young man who had been sent to the penitentiary for attempting to steal Mr. Litt's watch and pocketbook on the sleeping car.

Phreno-Physiognomy To-Night.

The phreno-physiognomist, Professor Artemas Golledge, will commence a course of four lectures in the Y. M. C. A. rooms this evening, when craniology and character in actions will be dealt with, and there will be some public examinations of members of the audience. He should be able to give some interesting information bearing on the subject of mental science. The New Zealand Herald, for the 19th of May, contained the following concerning him: "He is having an extensive practice here, and it may be many years before Auckland is visited by one so skilled in his special branch of work, so well credentialled both locally and afar, and at the same time able to give such valuable advice." To-morrow evening the professor lectures again. Prof. Golledge commenced the study of phrenology when a schoolboy. The high character of some of his critiques, with his many years of experience as a professional disposition reader, should tend to inspire some confidence in his ability. In these lectures there may be expected some highly interesting matters dealing with or bearing on phreno-physiognomy.

Excursions for Westminster.

The steamer Islander will make three trips to New Westminster next week. She will leave here at midnight on Tuesday with the Canadian Oddfellows and Knights of Pythias. This party will leave Westminster for home at 6 o'clock on Wednesday, giving them a whole day to see the fair. The fare for the round trip will be $2. The boat will leave for Westminster again at 7 on Thursday and Friday mornings, leaving Westminster to return at 2 o'clock each afternoon. The fare for this trip will be $3.

Going South.

The steamer Umatilla sailed for San Francisco this morning with the following cabin passengers from Victoria: H. Spinks and wife, A. Burrowes, G. J. Burrowes, Miss Mabelle Burrowes, H. L. Searle, Master C. Bruichel, E. Ferris and wife, Miss A. Frederick, S. Herlitz, M. H. Cowan, Mrs. Lewis, Leo. Keeney, C. L. Waller, Charles Costello, A. L. Walter, A. D. Raynor, F. H. Elliott, M. Goodrich, George Otten and J. P. Lackwood.

Analyzing Kelp.

Mr. H. Carmichael, the government chemist, is still experimenting on the kelp found along the beaches in the vicinity of the city. A lot of very white salt and other matter has been extracted, but he has not yet had time to test the kelp for iodine.

Grass Fire.

The fire department was called out yesterday to put out a grass fire near A. J. Langley's residence. Very little damage was done by the fire.

THE RING.

TO RESTRAIN CORBETT.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 14.—J. H. Shakespeare, counsel for the proprietor of the National theatre, applied to Judge Arnold to-day for an injunction restraining champion Jim Corbett from giving an exhibition at the Academy of Music to-night. The ground of the application is that he previously made a contract with the National theatre to give no exhibition in this city at any place other than their house. Judge Arnold fixed 3 p. m. for hearing the case.

THE WHEEL.

VICTORIA CYCLISTS TRAINING HARD.

Several members of the Wanderers' Cycling Club have begun training for the tournament to be held the first day of the exhibition. There are to be seven events and some lively contests are expected. Some of the Mainland riders will compete, and the Victoria boys propose to ride hard to uphold their city. They have the latest improved racing wheels, and all that is needed now is condition to make a showing.

THE OAR.

HE MAY FOOL THEM.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—Local oarsmen look upon the challenge of Hanlan to Stanbury, to row for the world's championship, with a grain of suspicion. They say that Hanlan long since "lost his grip" on the oars, and that he could not row fast enough at this time of his life to keep the Australian warm over a three mile course.

ROYAL NAVY ANNUAL GAMES.

The Second Annual Games of the Fleet at Esquimalt To-Day a Pronounced Success.

A Large Attendance from the City Witness the Various Athletic Contests.

Good weather, a large and fashonable throng of spectators, the fluttering of countless gay banners and a general holiday aspect, marked the occasion of the second annual athletic sports of H. M. S. Warspite's gallant crew, under the patronage of Rear Admiral C. F. Hotham, C.B. Everyone in the large gathering of spectators was made to feel at home, and none departed from the field feeling otherwise than perfectly satisfied and pleased with the fine entertainment provided by the sailors. Everything was carried out in a thoroughly hearty sailor spirit, and was marked by the usual amount of jollity. The sports began early in the forenoon on the Royal Navy Recreation grounds, and were maintained with great spirit until the shades of evening began to creep athwart the sky. The various events were well contested, and the winners earned their prizes.

The referee was Captain the Hon. Hedworth Lambton, of the Warspite; starter and timekeeper, Lieut. Sir Robert Arbuthnot, R.N.; committee and judges, Staff Commander C. Bawden, R.N., Major R. ON AN OSTRICH FARM.

How the Birds are Deprived of their Beautiful Plumes.

The invitation of "Biddy, Biddy, come Bid," and handfuls of yellow corn scattered over the brown sand at the Colorado ostrich farm, near San Diego, Cal., the other afternoon, brought the 11 full-grown birds into a feathery mass before E. P. Waters and his colored assistant. A group of curious people, says the San Diego Sun, banked the low railing along the west reserve of the grounds. It was the second plucking this season, but of a generally fresh lot of birds from the American Ostrich Company's parent farm at Fallbrook as intervals of eight months must separate pluckings. Superintendent Waters was in shirtsleeves and a limp flour sack dangled from his rear left pocket. It requires some time to counteract the suspicion that would flare up in a fringe of snaky necks, until the reassuring gaze and the soothing voice of the feeder caused them to drop in security to the temptation in the sand.

Suddenly there was a wild stampede, and the neck of the grey female that Waters had bent to seize was hooded in the sack, an opening for breathing admitted several inches of her bill. Between the men this strangely subdued creature was guided into an open-end stall. Apparently the ostrich, with its fore and aft eye sweep, feels its helplessness when blinded. There was no resistance, as the powerful pronged toe could not get a back hit at the plucker. The assistant stood behind as guard, while Waters pulled, snipped, and answered questions from the inquisitors.

They learned that each wing, over the protectors of floss feathers, there grow, to maturity in eight months, 26 long, white plumes. In the black male these are pure white, but the female adds slight shadings of ecru or gray. The sweep of short feathers above this splendid fan of white is plucked for tips, and each wing furnished 75 of these. The tail feathers are toned into a deep old ivory, and 65 of these are of commercial use. Scissors were used only to clip the long wing plumes, as this must be done a month or more before maturity to prevent the ends being whipped out. The quills are then pulled when ripe. Nearly 300 feathers were secured from Biddy, which will have a market value of $65 after being curled and dressed. The female averages 70 eggs in a year, and nowadays these are all incubated at Fallbrook, where alfalfa pastures await the young ones. Green feed at Coronado for the 11 costs, on a daily average, 60 cents. None of these birds are over three years of age, and all are native sons and daughters. The youngest male, a splendid curly-coated fellow, is but 16 months old, and this second plucking in his experience was certainly anticipated. He fought, kicked and crouched through the process, but Mr. Waters secured from him the finest plumes of the pick. A second female was denuded, and the remainder were left unmolested for a third plucking soon.

CHAMBERLAIN'S SPEECH

In the British Parliament, and Its Contrast With Gladstone's.

Correspondence of the New York Post.]

And a most exciting night it was. Only Mr. Gladstone, among the leaders, and Mr. Balfour spoke on Tuesday. The debate was adjourned, after some skirmishing, until Thursday, and it was agreed that the division should be then taken. The Ministry were all along anxious that the debate should be protracted, and the final trial of strength delayed, in spite of the eagerness of their rank and file to get away to the moors. The Liberals, on the other hand, were fully determined not to debate, to be content with Mr. Gladstone's statement, and to move on the enemy's works and compel a surrender at the earliest possible moment. Consequently last night they left all talking to the Tories and the Liberal Unionists.

Mr. Chamberlain opened the fray at 4 o'clock before a House crowded to its utmost capacity. He probably never did better in his life, and it was curious to see the delighted expectation with which the Tories, and especially the young "swells," watched his opening strokes, as he distributed little squirts of vitriol all around him, a drop or two on Tim Healy, a drop or two on Labouchere, on Harcourt, on Asquith, on Trevelyan, and a regular shower now and then on the Irish. A more perfect master of debate—in its lowest form, however — probably never was seen. All its tricks and devices are ready to his hand. Every interruption was turned to account in the deftest manner. He had a whole arsenal of foolish or inconsistent remarks that his enemies in bygone days had made ready in his hat, and after rubbing a little poison on each arrow, discharged it at his old friends with wonderful effect amongst the uproarious applause and mirth of the Tories. If hatred and contempt were or could become in these democratic days great political forces, Mr. Chamberlain would have a great future. His face—to be just a little personal—greatly increases the effectiveness of his peculiar style of oratory, for one rarely sees a human countenance express these passions more vividly. As he turned now and then on the Irish, who were behind him, his look was literally baleful, and in the days of the "evil eye," would certainly have blasted the whole delegation with some atrocious stroke of "bad luck."

He spoke for over an hour with extraordinary cleverness, but I do not think I exaggerate when I say that there was not in the whole of his remarks one word of hope or conciliation for either the Irish or his old colleagues; not one suggestion, solemn as the occasion was, looking to any amicable or harmonious solution of the Irish problem or to any future for it but a steady application of brute force to bridle discontent. At the end he tried to infuse a lyric strain into his peroration by making a sort of appeal to the Liberals, for the good of the country, not to turn the Tories out, or assume office themselves, but the effect was almost ludicrous. The waters of rhetoric, like other waters, cannot be made to rise higher than their source, and a dry, cynical, and mocking nature cannot produce either pathos or solemnity at will.

These remarks are in a measure true of Mr. Balfour also. There is nothing in which Mr. Gladstone's superiority to them both is better shown than in the breadth of view and elevation of tone he manages to infuse into his speeches. All his argument on this Irish question points directly to the conclusion that the present state of it cannot last; that "force is no remedy;" that even if it were it is impossible, as has now been proved, to apply it indefinitely, owing to the state of British politics; that in the modern world great masses of men must be conciliated and cannot be driven; and that, as Burke said, "Your measures must be healing." I am constantly struck here by the resemblance of some phases of the mental condition of the Conservatives to that of the northern Conservatives about slavery before the war—that is, they maintain that they could settle the Irish question if the other side would let it alone, as if the unwillingness or inability of the other side to let it alone were not part, and a most important part, of the problem to be solved, and as if the ridicule and insult heaped on the Irish for cherishing national sentiment were likely to kill it in days which have seen the Bulgarians and Servians, after 400 years of Turkish slavery, rise in 20 years into respectable nationalities.

A Narrow Escape From Burial.

A short time before the death of the late Gen. Edwards he related to some of his friends a curious incident which occurred when he left West Point to join Gen. Scott in the Black Hawk war, in which Gen. Edwards distinguished himself. Gen. Edwards was a cadet at West Point, having received the appointment in consequence of his father, Ninian Edwards, being the Governor of Illinois. In 1832 the Black Hawk war broke out, and Gen. Scott then commanding the Eastern Department, was ordered to the Northwest with a request made by him that a respectable number of regulators be taken from the Eastern defences to accompany him to the seat of hostilities. In this demand a number of West Point cadets offered to volunteer, urged by young Edwards, on the ground that as they were appointed from the West, they were bound by duty and honor to obey the call where that section was threatened. The troops embarked in steamers at Detroit, and while ascending Lake Huron the Asiatic cholera, which had been brought from Quebec, began to affect the troops of Scott's expedition at different points on the lake; many died, and one of the steamers was beached on the shore with the dead and dying, while the two others proceeded to Chicago in company. The sick were transferred to one of the boats, and when a death occurred the body of the victim was placed in a sack and cast overboard into the waters of the lake. Just before reaching Chicago, the surgeon was told that one of the soldiers had expired, but that there were no more sacks with which to enshroud the body preparatory to casting it into the lake. The surgeon advised that it be allowed to remain undisturbed until the arrival at Chicago. After landing in that port, then but a hamlet, the convalescent troops were marched across the prairie to Prairie du Chien, leaving the sick behind. The campaign closed soon after the battle of Badaxe, and the young officers of the army, all volunteers were discharged by Gen. Scott. The latter, among whom was Edwards, on returning to Chicago was utterly surprised and astounded on seeing among the sentinels on duty the soldier who was given up for dead from cholera on the steamer and was only saved from being drowned in a sack by the lack of that article and the haphazard decision of the surgeon in charge.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

THE GAME LAW FARCE.

TO THE EDITOR:—It is not a little surprising that a more determined effort is not made to enforce the game laws. The provincial police are always active in attending to other people's business, but in attending to their own the farce appears to be about as loose and inefficient as ever it was—and that is saying a good deal. It is surely impossible that matters which are known to everyone else are kept a secret from the provincial police. We all know that pheasants are being slaughtered by the dozen by pot hunters, and we know equally well that no genuine effort has been made to stop it. Will the well-rested provincial bobbies "get a move on" and show some valid reason for us continuing them longer in office? HEN PHEASANT.
